EMILI NEUSTADT

Emili —
This play has been one wacko-wild experience hasn't it? It's going to be worth it when we have one helluva cast party, though. Even though I do nothing but "kvetch" (Jewish mother word) I wouldn't have missed Runaways for anything. We should have a Runaway reunion in 5 years.
Don't get snobby + lose track when you're

Emili,
may life bring you all the love and happiness you deserve. Good luck in all that you do.
much love,
Mo. Sutor

Dear Emili -
Well, I was really impressed w/ your the first time I saw you in Amer. Dream. You are so completely natural & its really beautiful.
I know you'll be terribly busy this fall but if you could send a post card once in a while I'd love to hear from you. I have a feeling I'll end up in a liberal arts school trying to write & draw (probably broke too - but I think it would be worth it).

Sincerely,
Ann Gilbreath

Emili,
it's been really great knowing you the last two years. It's nice to know there are people in the world who do everything with spirit, and really enjoy it, or let people know they don't - instead of just pretending.
Have a great summer
and good luck always!

Emili,
I don't know what I don't know would be American Dream would be to talk about life without you to talk about you really make life something. Even in Latin you manage easier. Mr. "V"! to stall Mr. "V"!

To Emili
Emili - ready you are very nice person. you are my best friend Good luck in your future and have a nice summer. I hope we meet again Please don't forget me sometimes. I really enjoyed with you in lunch period. I remember always Call me always you take if easy always Love"

The life of a student is a work-filled, fun-filled d
We go to our classes and learn subjects to help us our future. We also find time to talk to our friends a enjoy life as it is for us now. The following pages tempt to portray a day in the life of a student.

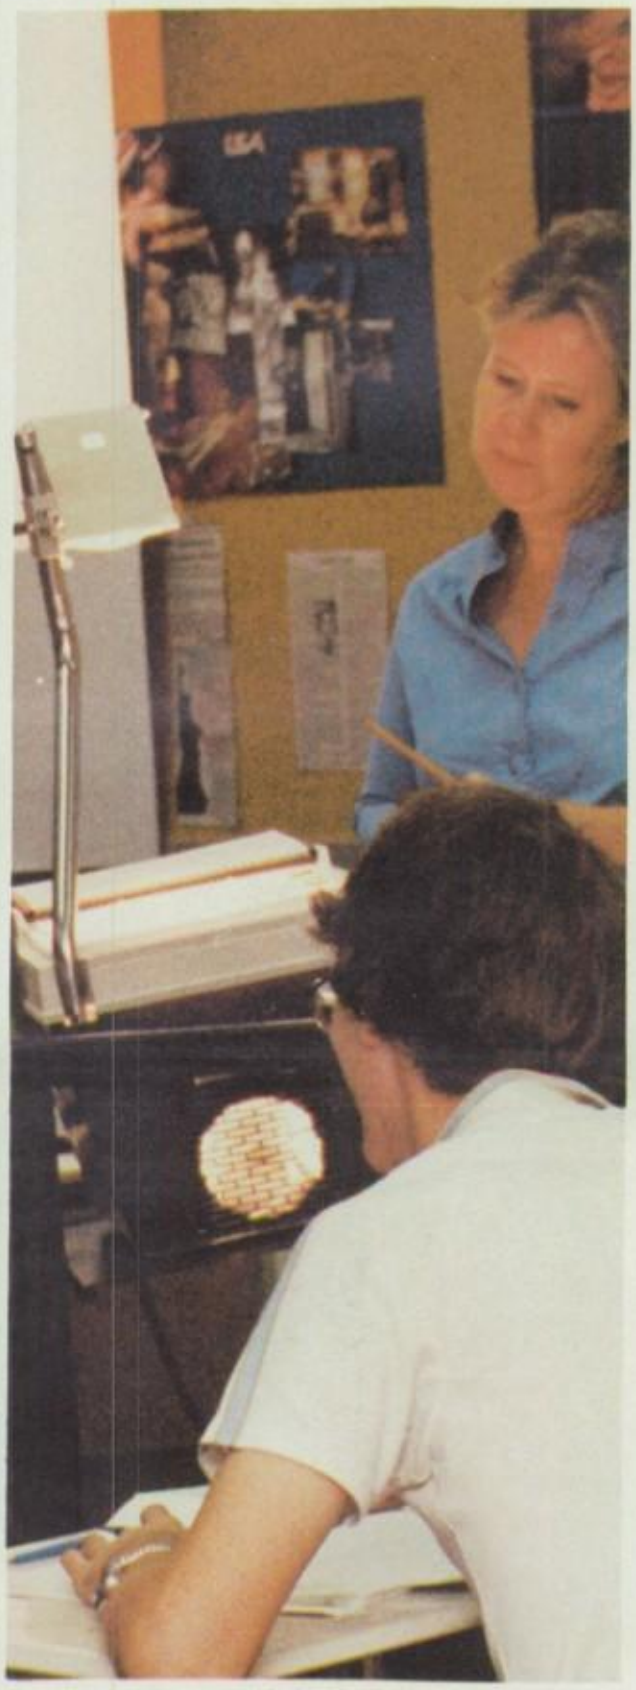
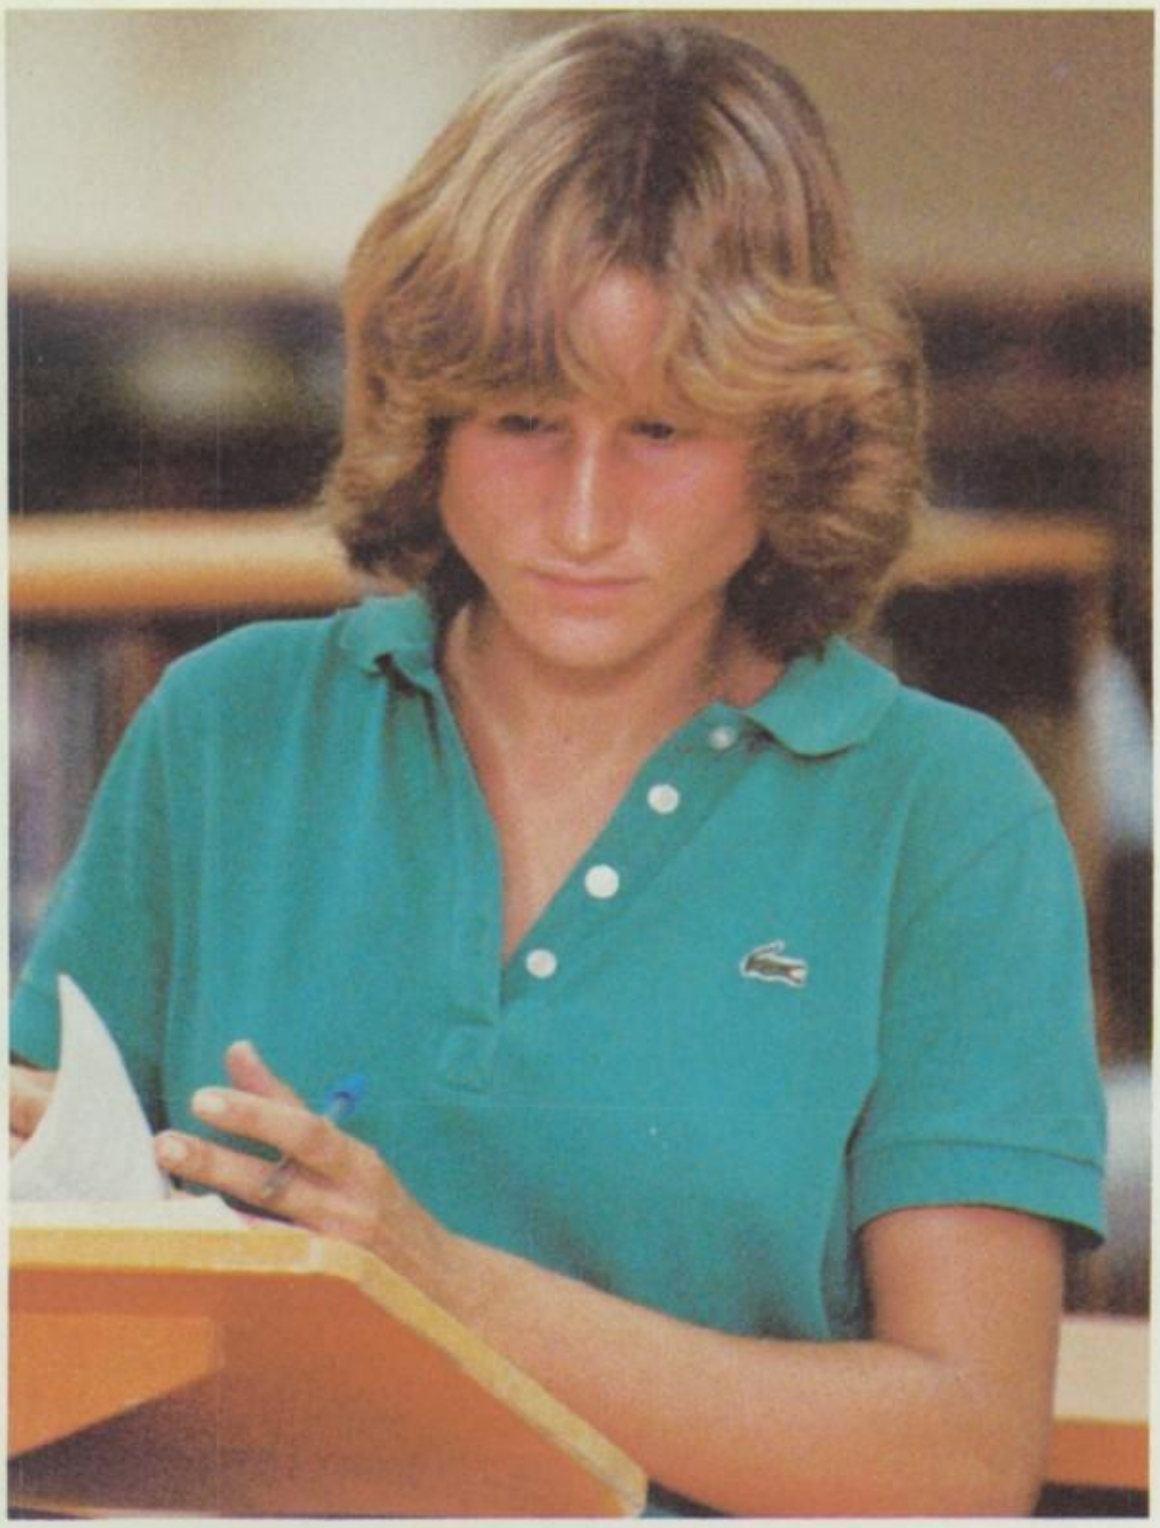
ENGLISH

Be it Myth and Man, Advanced Composition, or Acting Arts, it all prepares us for communicating in the world of our future.





MATH

General Math, Algebra, ar Calculus; they all are fru trating, yet many student's future will depend o them.

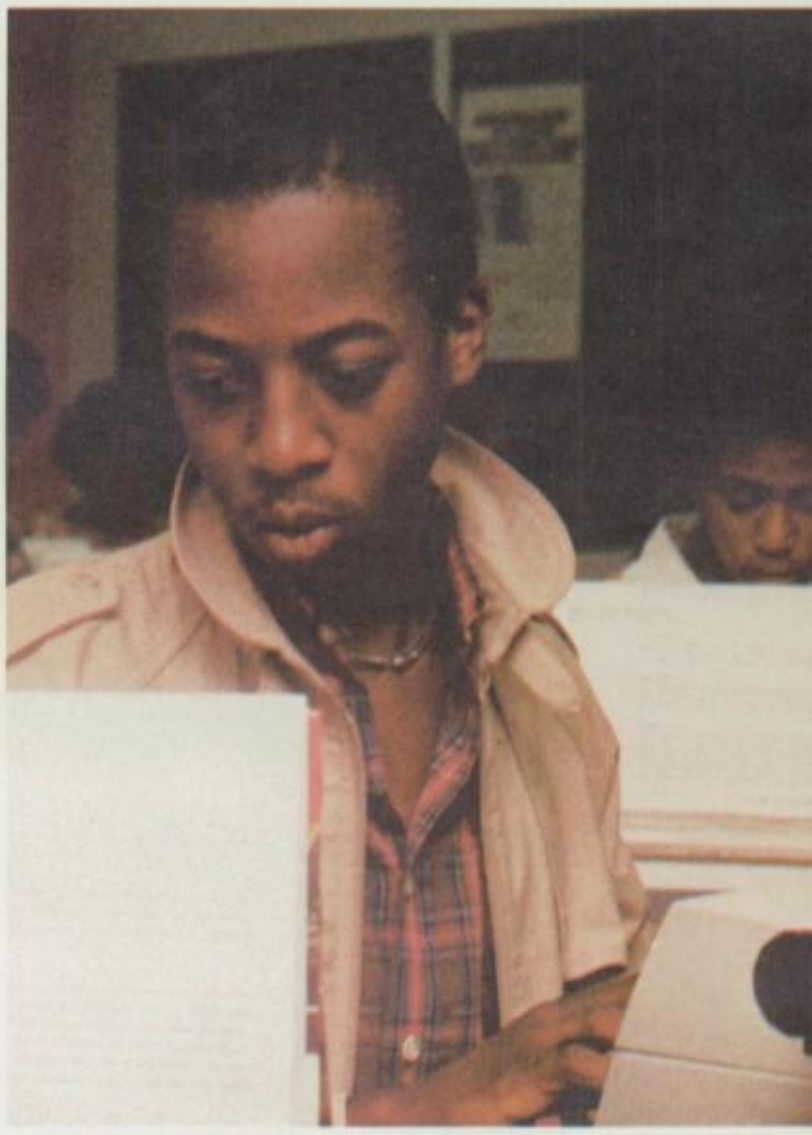
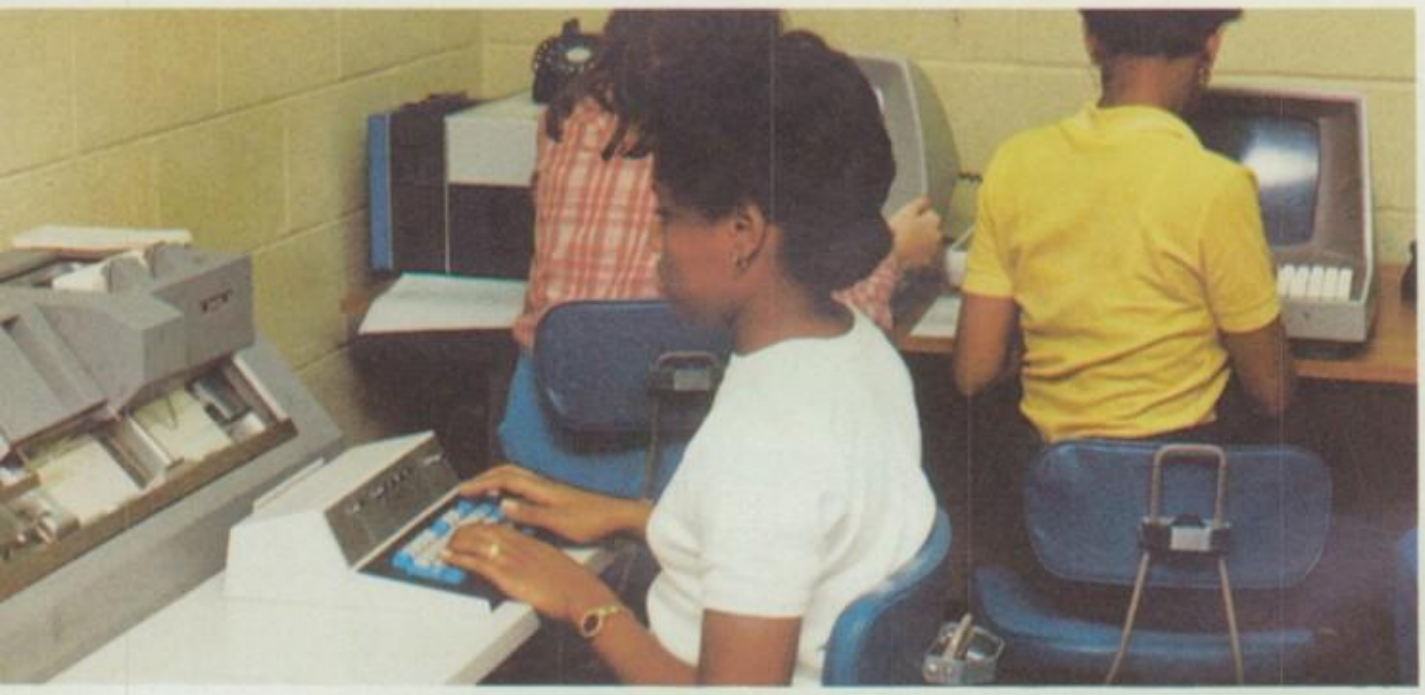
BUSINESS, TYPING, AND DATA PROCESSING



They all work together to train us for future occupations.



SCIENCE

Disecting, solving impossible equations, and mixi chemicals; all teach us about our world.

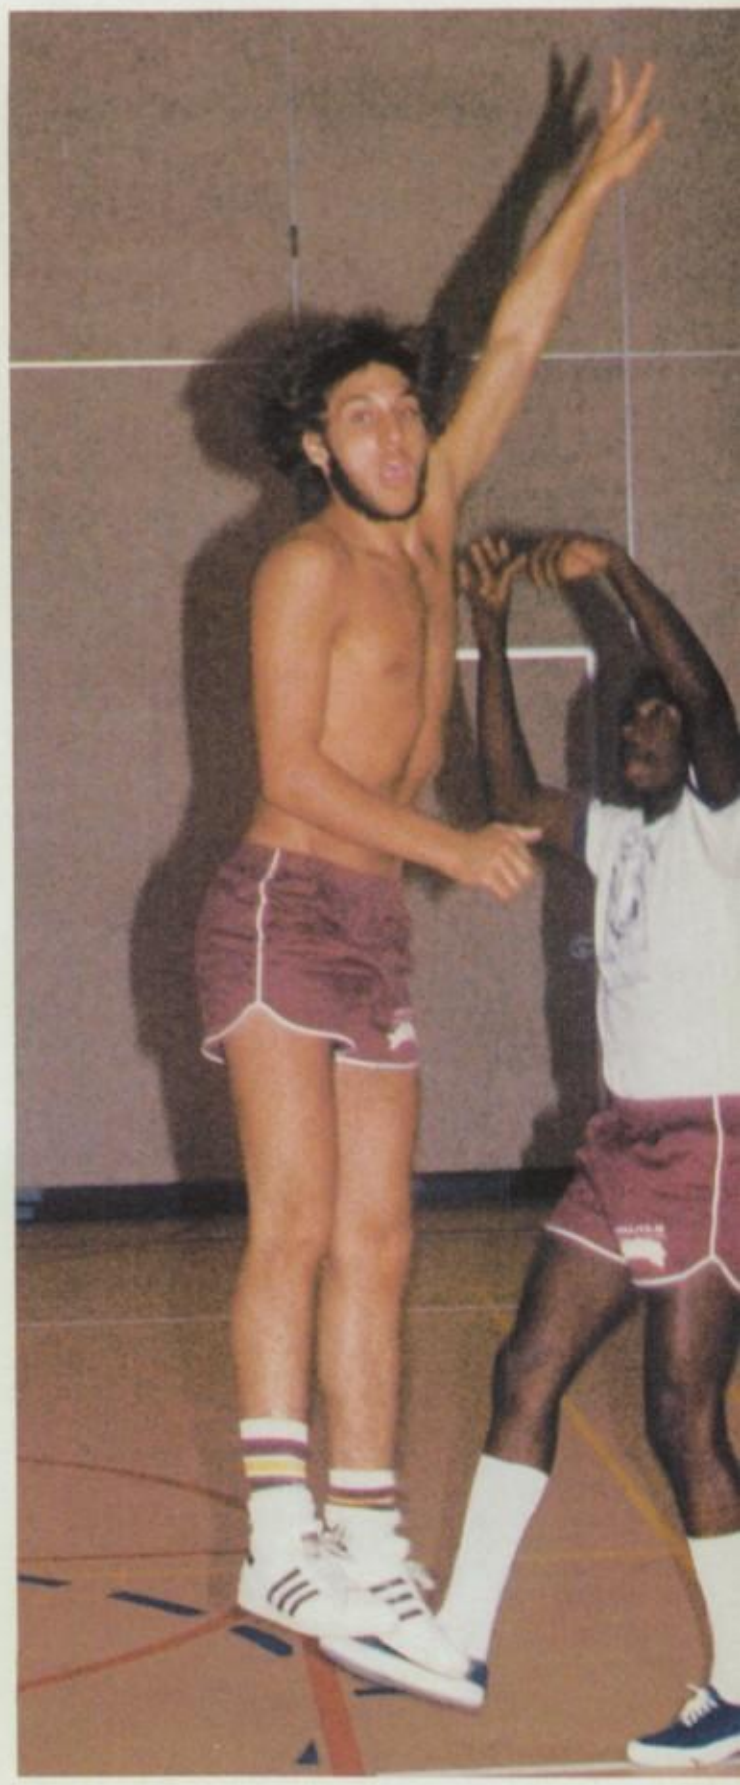
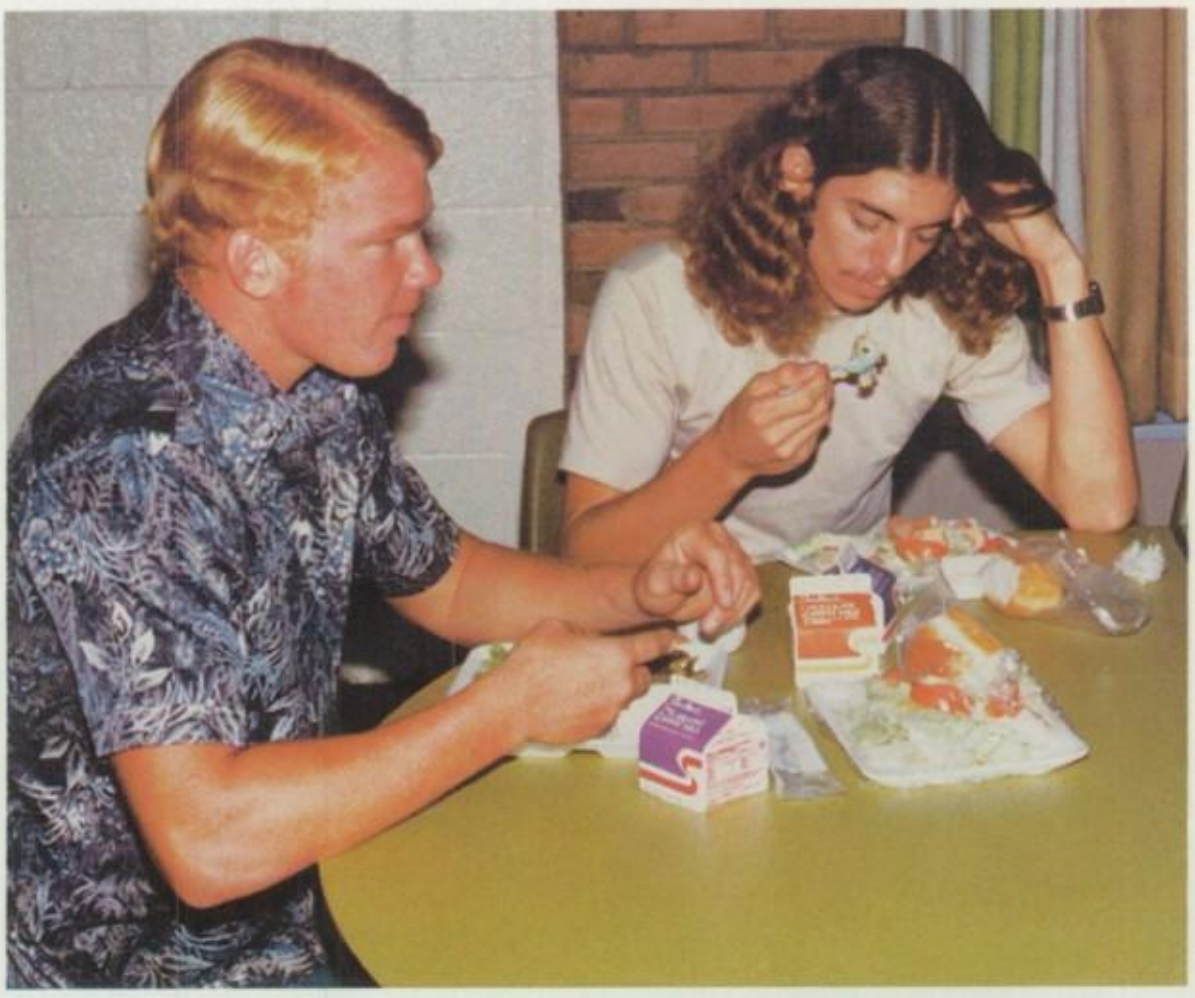
GYM

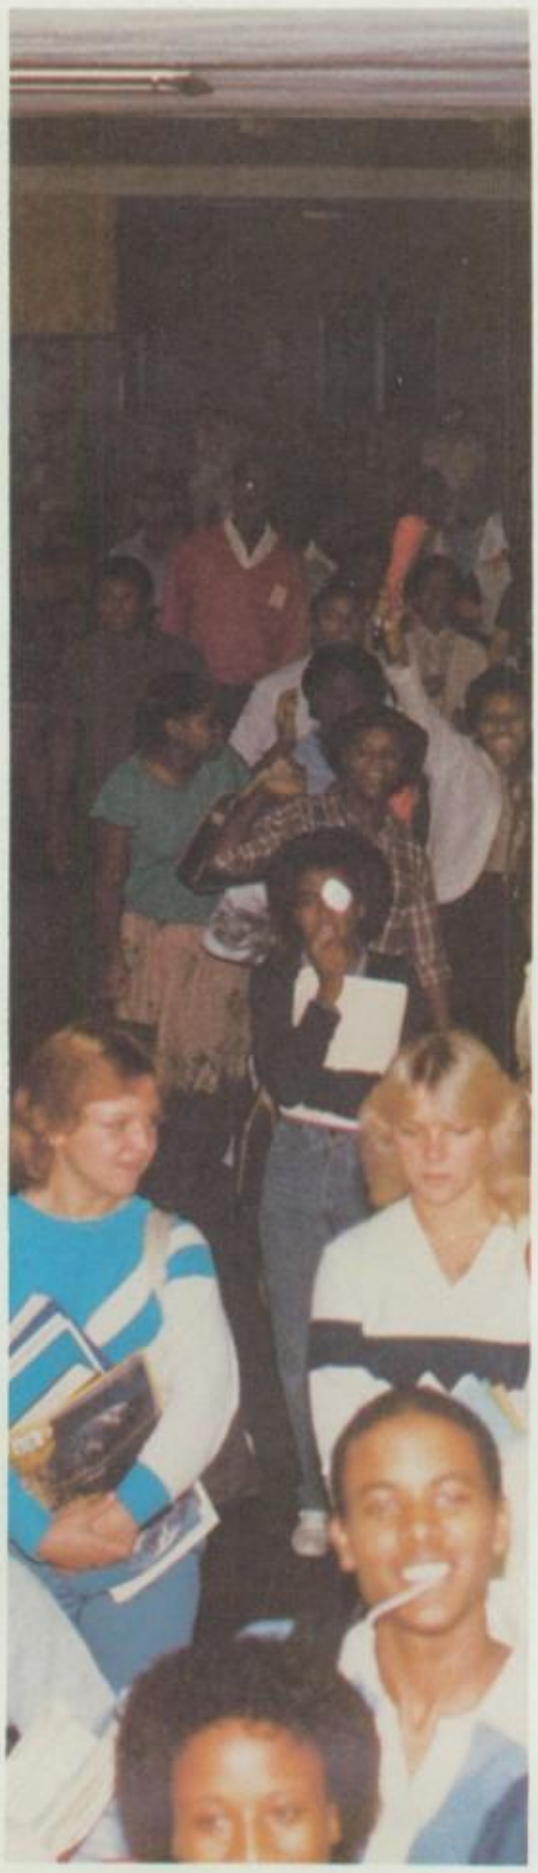
A time for play and hard work to shape you up.



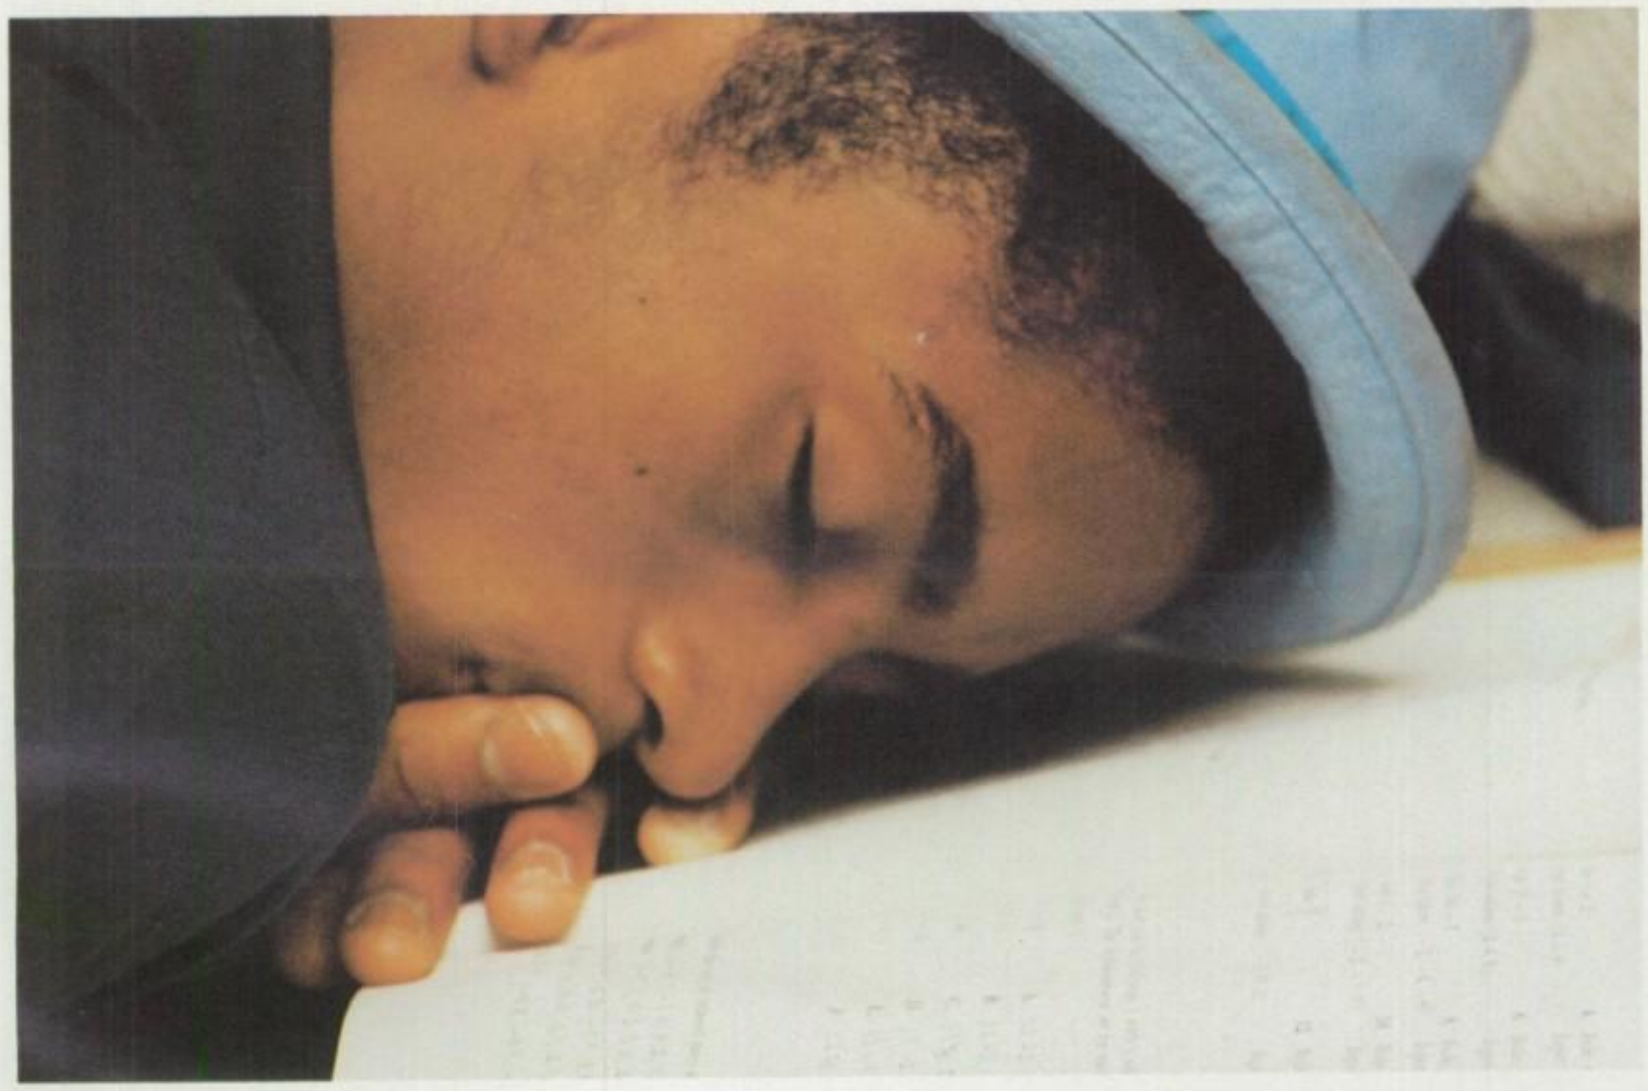
LUNCH



A time to fill our stomaches and replace the energy we lost in our classes.



We all need this time to forget our problems of the day and relax our tired brains.



LEISURE

FOREIGN LANGUAGE, MUSIC and HOME EC

A time of learning to communicate with others; be i in another tongue, through sounds or through thei stomaches.

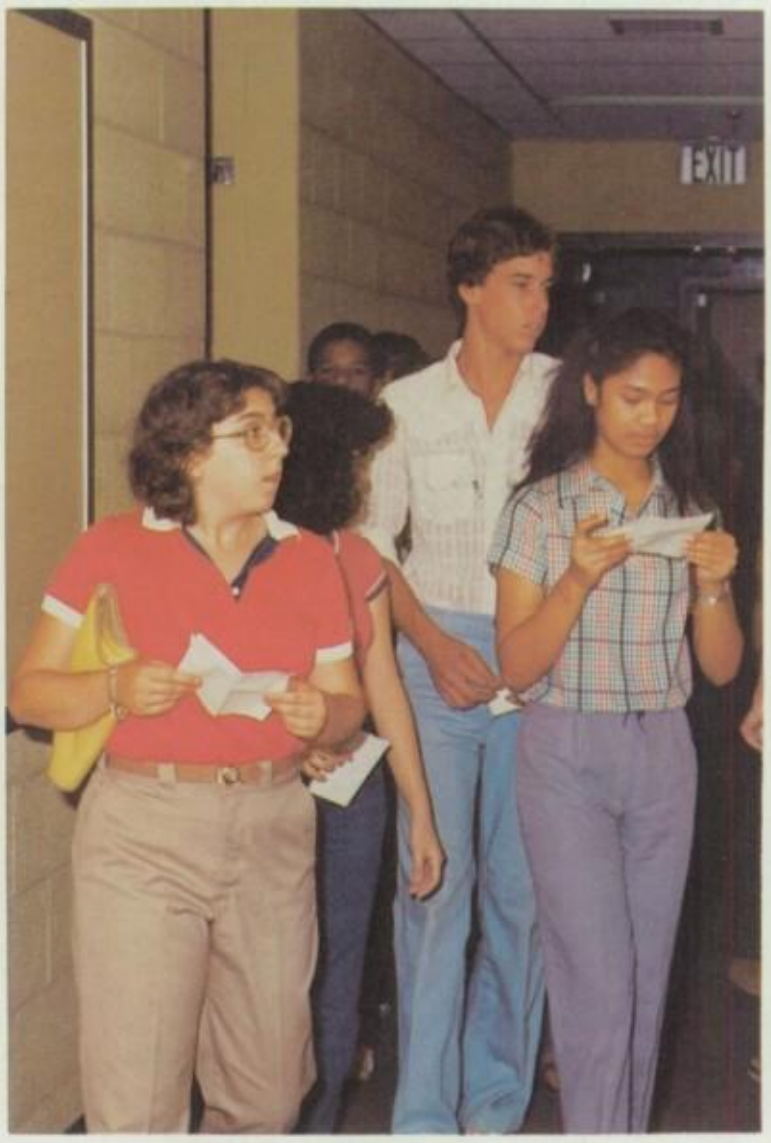
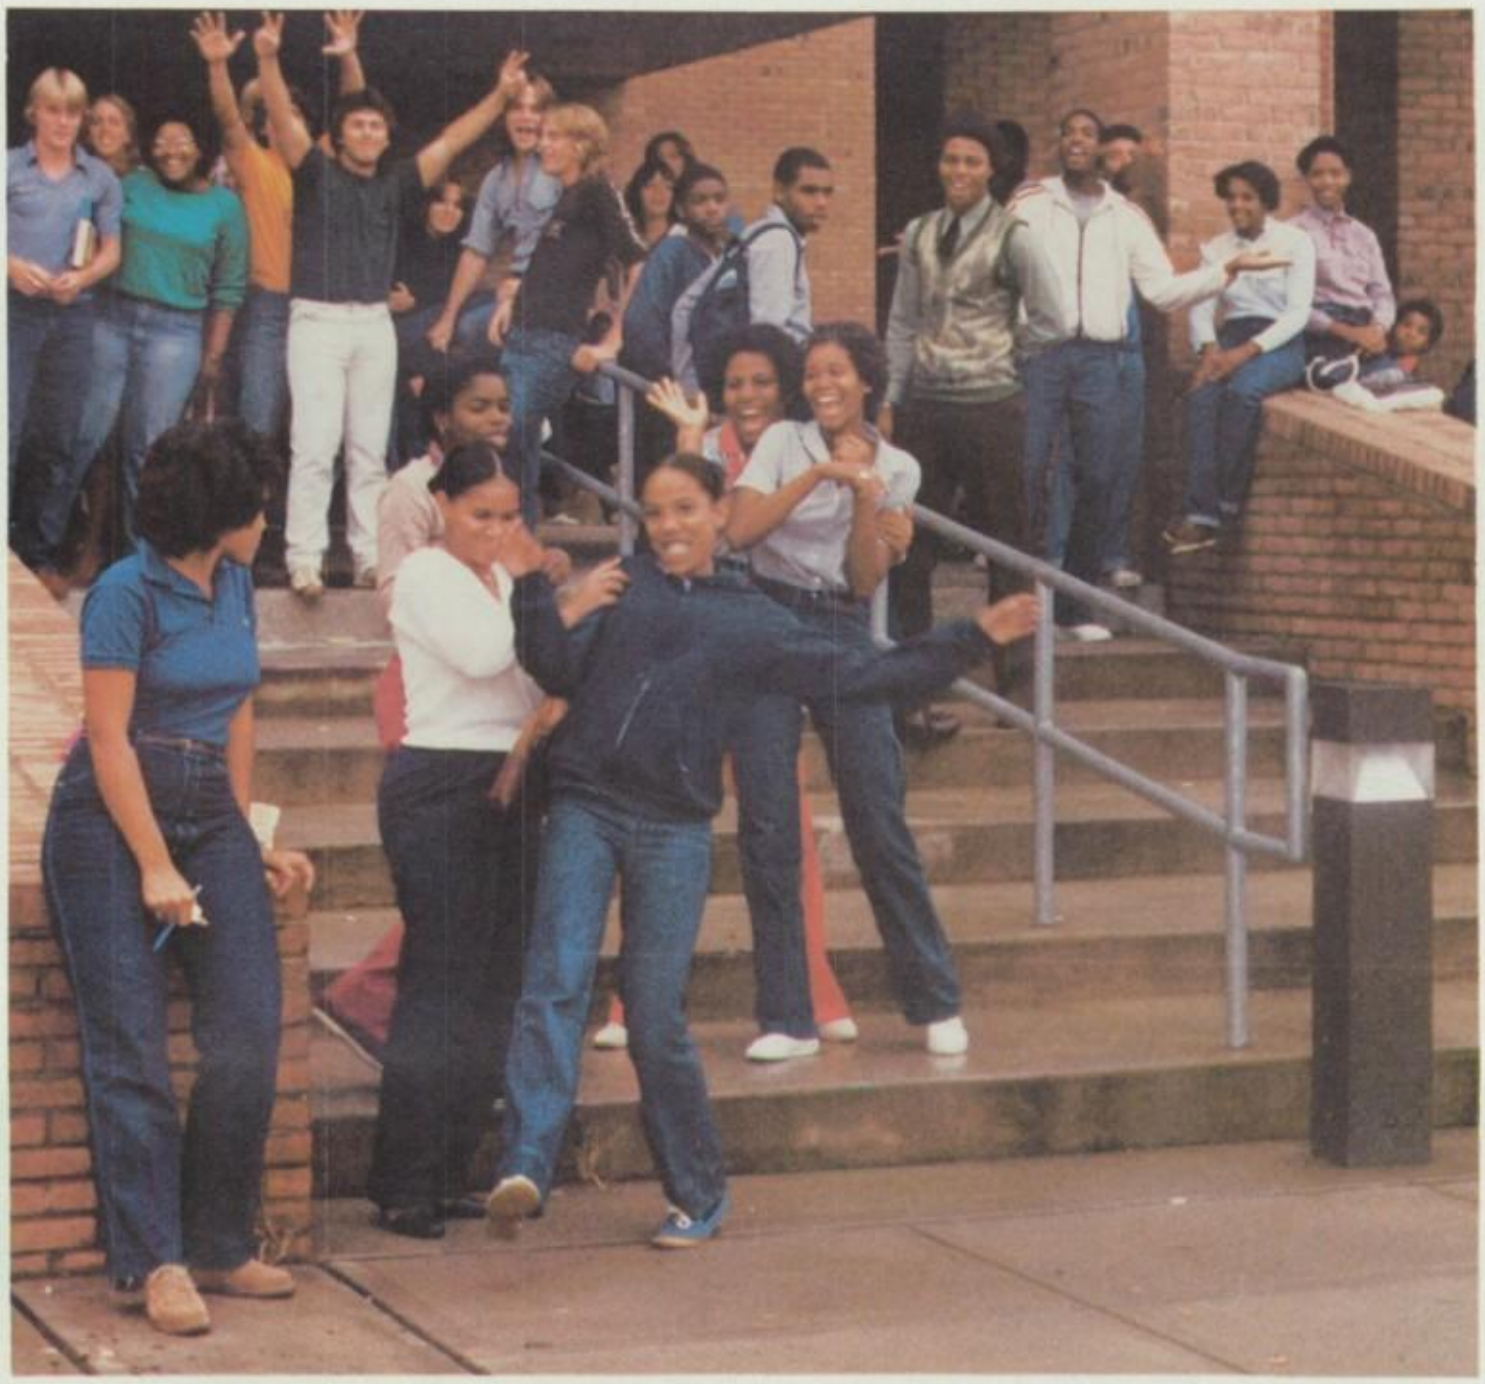
ART and SHOP

We learn to develop our talents and make objects that are useful or just pleasing to the eye.

CHANGING CLASSES

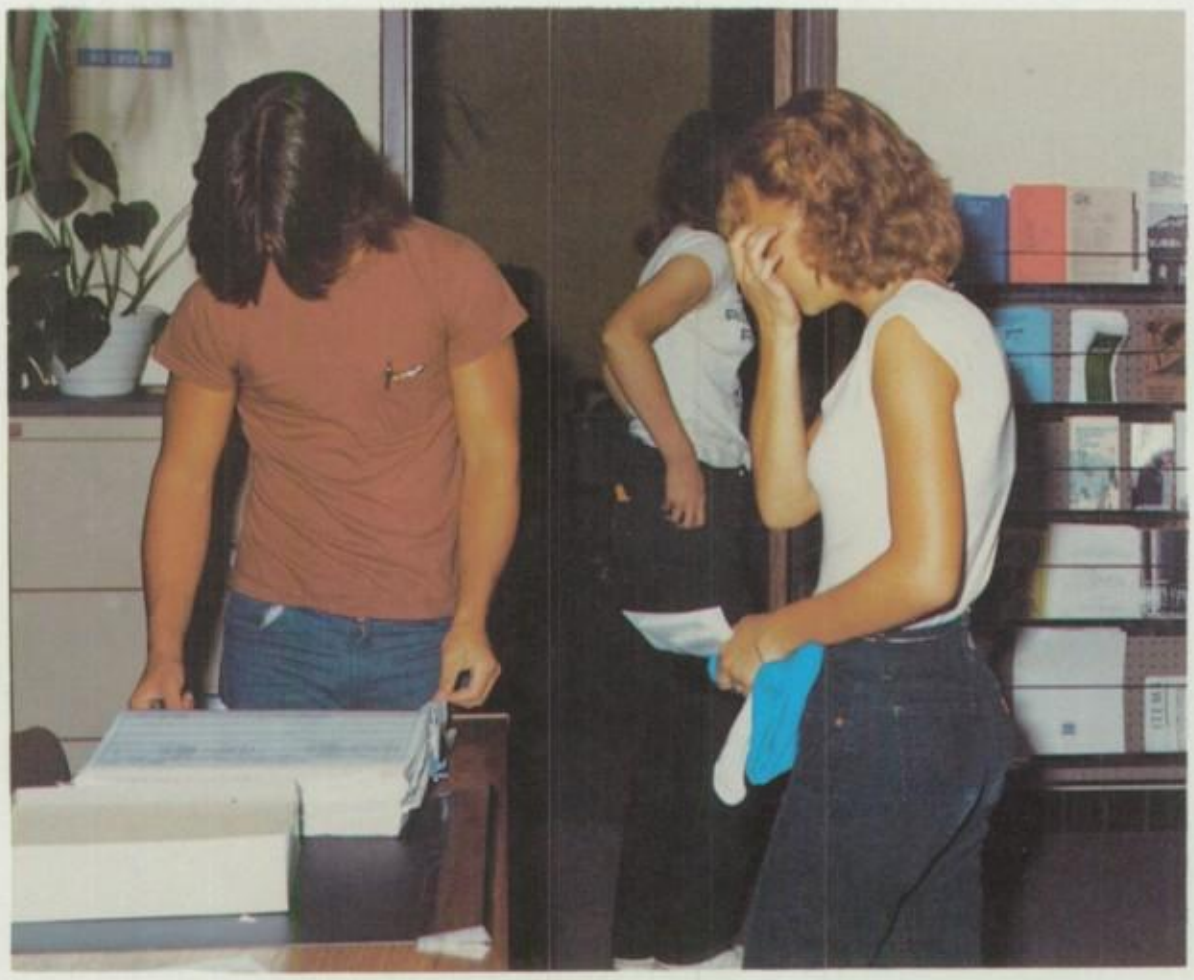


A confusing mass of disjointed body parts moving towards lockers, classes or lunch.



OFFICE and GUIDANCE

A place for bewildered and lost students to find assistance or to discuss their futures.



DEDICATION

A dedication—what exactly is a dedication? That was a question we, the editors of the yearbook, had to answer. The dictionary says it is an inscription in the yearbook used to set it apart for a special purpose. But what is that purpose? We believe it is a group of words which together, when joined, give the yearbook an added meaning, one that makes you want to keep the thoughts in your mind always there. We had to decide if it should be for one person or some other idea that we talked about.

The class of 1981 had three years filled with changes. We had one semester at the old school. We had just learned our way through three buildings and then we were plopped in the middle of a new, huge building. We were confused again, faced with new obstacles . . . and all in a day of the life of a student.

We saw the space shuttle take off and as man begins to work and live in space, we see Star Wars and such "science fiction" becoming a part of our real life . . . and all in a day in the life of a student.

We saw the horrors of war, the trauma of the Guyana tragedy, and above all else, the scandalous Iranians takeover of our American embassy in Tehran. Yet we took it all in stride . . . all in a day in the life of a student.

We experienced the joys of the world visiting us for the Olympics, the hockey team beating the Soviets and winning the gold medal. The heart break of Tai and Randy, the wonder of Eric Heiden winning five gold medals. We saw a new president come into Washington. The joyous occasion of the release of the hostages gave us a sudden patriotic feeling. We all joined together in tears and smiles to welcome the prisoners home. And it was all accepted . . . all in a day in the life of a student.

We have lived through an energy crisis that has made it necessary to curb our lifestyles. We are now witnessing the war between Iran and Iraq. We saw President Carter decide to boycott the summer Olympics to show the U.S. "disapproval" of the situation with U.S.S.R. We saw the flyby of Saturn and have begun to learn more about life outside the Earth. We see the growing equality of women as they have proven that they can handle jobs that were once "for men only." We have experienced the reinforcement of the draft registration. Many of us will soon have to register. We had the tragedy of the death of John Lennon. We saw a Pope die and his successor do the same and the newest Pope has found his way into the hearts of all Catholics. We accept it all . . . all in a day in the life of a student.

We are now preparing for another huge change. As we decide what to do after we leave the security of high school, home and life as it is today. We have stuck together through all the years of change. We shouted the joys of the days and cried over the disappointments of America. Why not dedicate the book to America? What better diety to worship to? As we live each day here in our homes, pass through a day in the life of a student, we learn, we grow, we develop our potential. We are the future of America. And for that we dedicate the 1981 Wake to the ideals of America, those which we, as we mature, should stand for.

WELCOME SOPHOMORES!

Sophomore Orientation was held on August 30 for all incoming 10th graders. They were given information and tours of the school before having to face the upperclassmen. Old friends were united and and the thoughts of high school were discussed.

SPIRIT WEEK

AHS showed its true colors during Spirit Week this year. Student participation in School Color Day, Hat Day, Jock Day, Western Day, and Catch a Cheerleader Day built up the spirit and anticipation for the weekending events.

PARADING PANTHERS!

The Homecoming Parade through the streets of Annapolis formed at the City Dock and paraded to the old school. Floats of every kind from different clubs and groups of students followed the band along the parade route. Prizes were given out by the Student Council. First prize went to the art club for their "Panthers are Cool" float. Second was clamed by the junior class and third was given to the senior class for "Fun in the Sun".

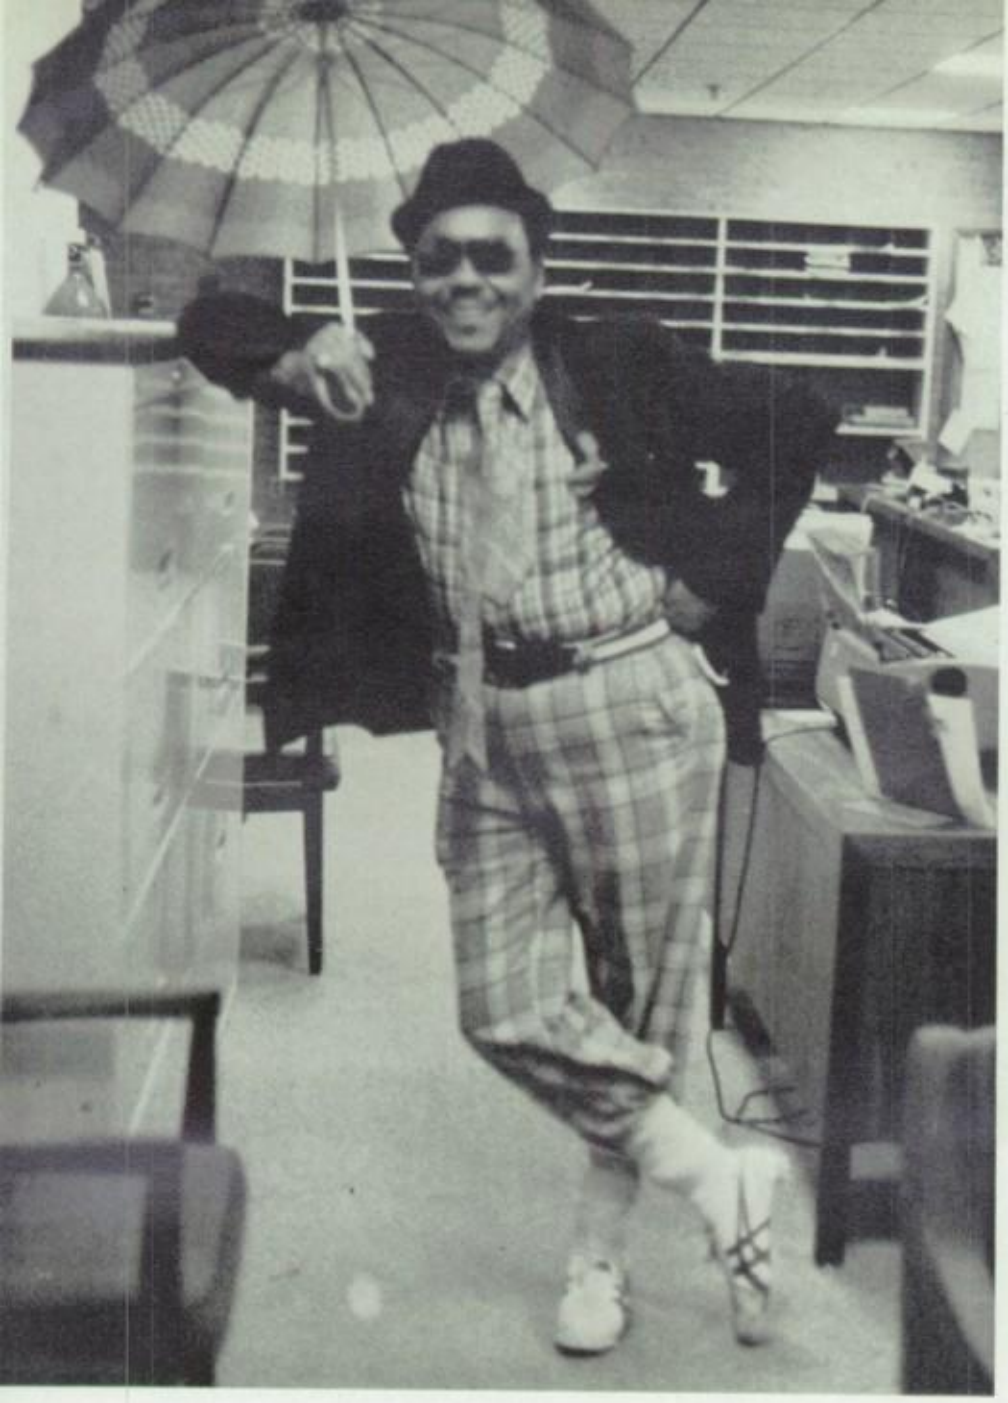
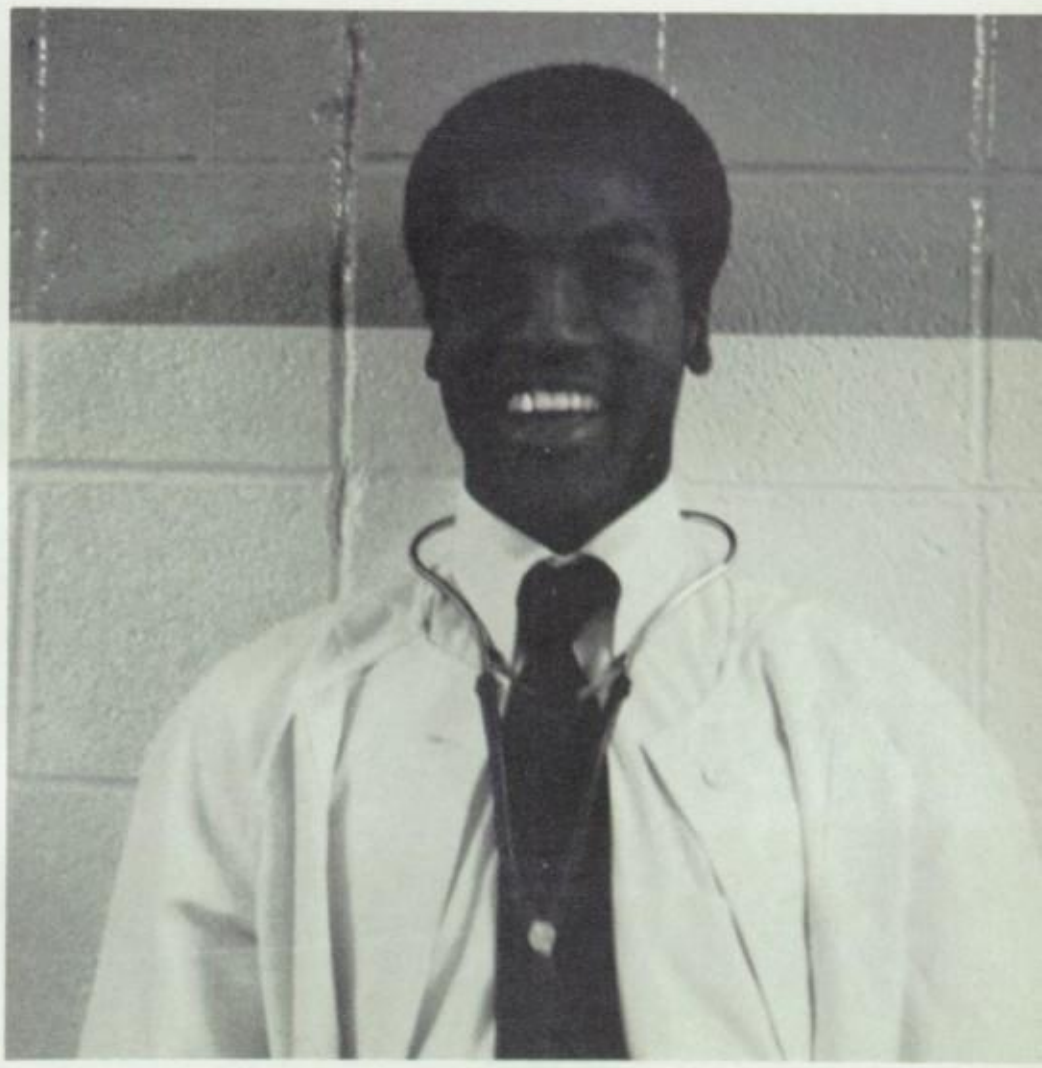
THE 1980 FALL SPORTS BANQUET

Annapolis High takes great pride in their sports teams and showed it at the Fall Sports Banquet. The banquet honored all of the athletes who worked and played so hard for their teams and their school. Among the fall sports teams honored were football, cross country, field hockey, boys soccer, girls soccer, golf, and volleyball. Congratulations to everyone for a job well done!

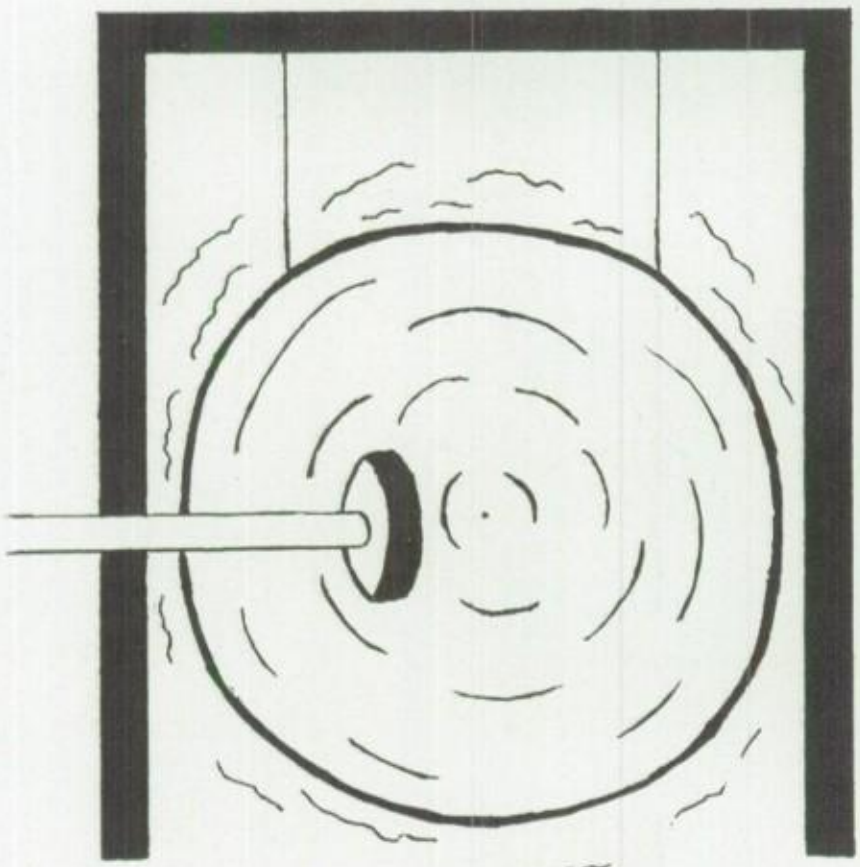
HALLOWEEN DAY



Everyone got into the spirit of Halloween this year. The teachers and students were encouraged to use their imaginations and did they ever. Left: Mr. Gross showed his flare for fashion while (below) Lance Baden gleems with hope for the future.



THE SECOND ANNUAL GONG SHOW



Faze II are joint winners of first prize. Band members are George Thomas, Terry Johnson, Lorne Harris, Selene Williamson, Paul Jack, and Eric Reid.

Pam Winegrad and Sharon Brown advertise Coke?

Once again the Junior Class sponsored the fund raiser of the year. Competing in front of a packed house, several students of AHS showed their talent, imagination, and humor. The January 9th show was the main fund raiser for the prom in June. First prize of seventy five dollars was split between the winning groups Faze II and Atlantic.

The Judges, Mr. Trotter, Mr. Scarborough, and Frank Cassinari, prepare to gong.

foreign language symposiums.

How dast thou take a picture of moi?

ANCHOR

The Anchor, our newspaper staff, work hard and hurriedly to put out a school newspaper at given intervals. Ms. Eberline, the advisor, found her new position somewhat confusing as a mass of bodies all ran around in the Publications Room trying to make a newspaper out of confusion. They did an excellent job as was proven by the number of papers that they sold.

PERCEPTION

Perception is more than a club, together the group work to produce a literary magazine called Perception. They put in a lot of hard work. They are coached by their advisor, Mrs. Wanbaugh.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The group pose for a picture. Mr. Murray, the advisor stands by. This year they had two exchange students Both Bettina Boustas from Argentina and Martin Juarez from Mexico seemed to enjoy their stay here at ASH.

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA

The group belonging to The Future Business Leaders of America, worked hard to prepare a float for the Homecoming Parade.

The Future Business Leaders of America are a group that all are interested in getting a job in the field of typing, shorthand, transcription, and other such interesting work. They all study courses here in school that they hope will aid them to succeed in such a job.

ART CLUB

The Art Club proved what wonderful artistic talent they have when th won "Best Float" in the Homecoming Parade this year.

The Art Club enjoy being together. They are a friendly group that has a lot of fun.

MATH TEAM

The Math Team at Annapolis Sr. High did very well this year. They are leading the County, are neck and neck with Key School for the Maryland State Competition, and with the records that some of the students have, Annapolis can expect some of them to go on to Regional Competition later this year. Eric Lim had the first perfect paper in the county this year.

At left the team works hard; practising on old tests and learning new methods so that they can beat the equally well prepared competitors.

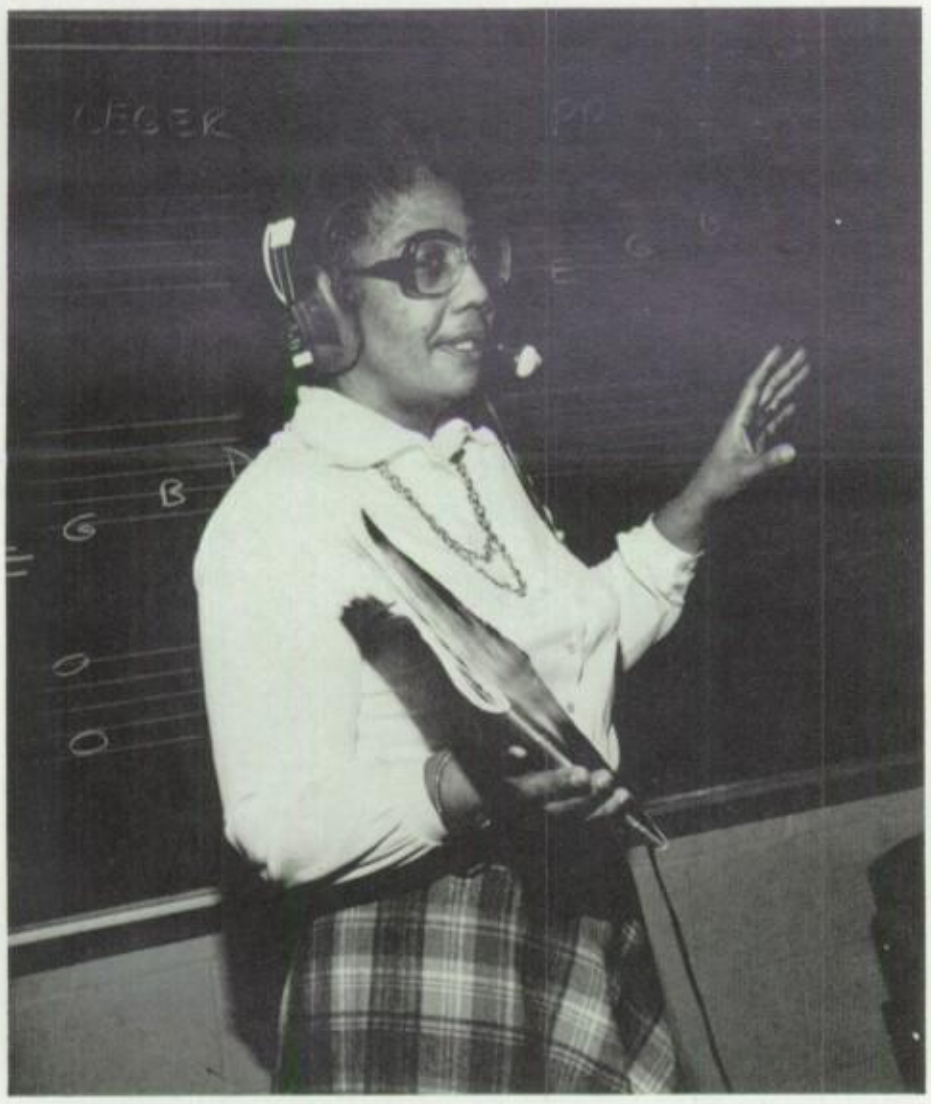
Row 1: Robert Edgemon, Kacy Cryer Row 2: Mr. Greenfield, John Joseph, Dan Rosenman, Eric Lim, Mrs. Rau

This year It's Academic team did very well. They won their first competition and feel confident that they will do well when they return. Mrs. Rau, their advisor, drills them each week on trivial facts that they must know. Kacy Cryer, Eric Lim and Robert Edgemon all appeared on TV. The alternates, John Joseph and Dan Rosenman, both worked very hard in helping the group to train. Way to go It's Academic!

FACULTY PIANO CLASS

The teachers reverse places as they become the students and learn how to play the piano.



Mrs. Abernathy is the teacher of this newly formed class this year. All wh participate seem to enjoy it.

MARCHING BAND

Our Annapolis Sr. High Marching Band did very well this year. They even played at the Marine Corps Stadium during a Naval Academy football game. The crowd, many from this area, enjoyed the presentation.

The group did a very good job under Mr. Svec's watchful eye.

ORCHESTRA

Matice practices diligently under Mr. Svec's watchful eye.

Annapolis Senior High's Orchestra is very proud of its accomplishments. Under the professional direction of Mr. Svec, their performance is excellent.

THE YEAR 1981

Photographs courtesy of Delma Studios, Inc.

On January 20, 1981, the entire nation and much of he world tuned in to watch the inauguration of Ronld Reagan as President of the United States. Adding to he drama of the occasion was the news of the release of the prisoners held in Iran. As the new President ode through the streets of Washington, D.C. in the oficial motorcade; crowds turned out to cheer President Reagan.

Webster's defines golf as an outdoor game played o a large course with a small, hard ball and a set clubs, the object being to hit the ball into each of a s ries of nine or eighteen holes in turn, using the fewe possible strokes. What it doesn't say is how difficult game of golf is. Golf is an individual sport and ther fore requires a lot of self discipline. Annapolis' Go Team under Coach Scarborough did quite well th year. Emili,

What may one say upon this joyous occasion (for which we have waited for 3 years except a sigh of relief and a scream of joy. I would just like to thank you for helping to keep Latin II a deep, intellectual subject with your intelligent conversation. (You can stop laughing now.) I just hate it when people just write "Good Luck" and "it's been fun having you in my classes" but it's hard to think of anything else. Nonetheless, good luck in the theater and never give up. You're sure to succeed if you just be yourself. Well keep in touch.

Love, Scott

P.S. It's been fun having you in my classes and good luck!

P.P.S. Address known thus far:

State College, Pa.

Emili,
I'm glad we've gotten to know you this year in French and American Dream. You're a really neat person and super nice. Good luck in college, withyour acting & all you do. Have a good summer
Love, Lynn Adams

Emili,
I really enjoyed getting to know you in American Dream, and I regret not meeting you sooner! Alot of people must tell you this, but it's true! I admire you so much for your abilities in English and acting!! You are truly gifted! You will go far in New York, I'm sure. Rem. all the things we did for Mrs. Rau. Dressing up, doing plays, and the Easter eggs. It was pretty fun. Well, good luck in all you do this summer and next year in college. I look forward to seeing you again sometime!
Love,
Angie

Emili,
Thanks for all your help in American Dream. You've been a great friend from the first day I met you. (Remember Gant.) Good luck with school next year & I know you'll love it. Keep smiling, it's beautiful. Hope this's summer.
Love, Emily
